HAD HOLES IN HIND HEELS OF HER HOSIERY

EARLY MORNING INTERESTING CONVERSATION OVERHEARD
ON TELEPHONE

Through the intervention of crossed wires, an interesting conversation was overheard at the Bonanza office today. Two ladies were conversing and the subject of interest was another young lady, presumably a friend of the two who were doing the talking.

The conversation ran something like this:

"Don't you know that she came up to my house the other morning and wanted to borrow my shoes. Her shoes were without heels."

"Yes, and you should see her stockings. She has no heels in them," came from the other end of the line.

"You cannot help but admire the young fellow she is going with, can you? Don't you think he is splendid?" asked the first.

"Well, I would think more of him if he would pick out a girl who had heels in her stockings," was the response, and a jealous tone was noticed.

"She is never more than half dressed, while he is always neat and clean. Say, how do you suppose a girl like that can hold on to such a fellow?"

"I don't know. But you can bet he will never see me with holes in my stockings. Ain't she the scrawny looking thing, though. She was at the dance the other evening and every time I dance with him, why, she would look daggers at me."

"Did she have holes in the heels of her stockings at the dance?"

"No, but she had on an old pair and there was a great big hole half way up her—"

The balance of the conversation was lost through the interruption of central, but it is presumed that the dear little lady in question received a thorough "banning" before the morning talkfest was brought to an end.

COMBINATION AUTO FIRE TRUCK BOUGHT BY BISHOP

The board of trustees of Bishop, Cal., have purchased an auto combination chemical and hose wagon for fire use in that city. The apparatus cost $5950 and is practically the same that is being used by fire departments in the larger cities. The truck is of 75 horse-power, has the self starter attachment and is of the Pope-Hartford make. Five different automobile manufacturing companies submitted bids.

Bishop recently authorized a bond issue for the purchase of the truck, and on the arrival of the machine the California city will boast of one of the most modern fire fighting outfits for a city of its size in the entire state.

SHOP OF SWELLDOM SALE ATTRACTS MANY

Cecile Munn of the Shop of Swelldom, who departs on January 28 for Oakland where she will engage in business, declared today that the closing out sale she is now conducting is the most successful sale she has ever held during her long residence in this camp. It was announced at first that Mrs. Munn would leave Tonopah on the first of the month and that the sale would continue until that date. This was an error for Mrs. Munn will leave on the 28th and on her arrival in Oakland will make arrangements for the furnishing of a shop in the heart of the fashionable business district. In the meantime all goods are being sold at less than cost.
